SIR,

THE enclosed affidavits marked No. 1, to 11, inclusive, will inform you of some outrages committed within this territory by two Spanish parties. The letters marked No. 1 to 5, and an order to colonel Ellis, will inform you of the steps which I have thought it advisable to take. The messenger with my letter to gov. Grand Pre has not returned, although he was requested, and undertook to be back by this morning. I have not received any answer to my dispatch to you on this subject of the 14th June.

If, sir, I am to risque any thing on this occasion, it shall be in defence of the liberty and property of the citizens, and in support of government; and I hope the measures taken and advised by me will not be found adverse to the views of the executive or to the interest of the U. States.

AFFIDAVIT No. 1.

WILKINSON COUNTY, Mississippi Territory.

Personally appeared before me, one of the justices of the peace for said county, Arthur Cobb, jun. and being sworn according to law, on his oath depose, that on the night of the 3d of September, 1805, being at the house of Samuel Kemper, or otherwise the tavern of the Kempers, between the hours of eleven and 12, he awakened from his sleep by the cry of murder and robbers. On leaving his bed, he saw a man in actual contest with Samuel Kemper; on preceeding further he saw another man and afterwards one more, and all being armed with the instruments of death, such as guns and pistols, he thought proper to retreat to call assistance; that afterwards a pistol was found, which must have belonged to one of those men, and from every appearance he believes it to belong to Ira Cook Kneeland.

AFFIDAVIT No. 2.

Likewise, as sheet No. 1. appeared William Westberry, and depose, that at the same time being awakened from his sleep by the breaking open the door, that on rising he thinks he saw five men in the act of bearing with a stick Samuel Kemper in the town of Pinckneyville; that he saw them drag him by the hands, heard the men give orders to tie his hands with a rope; that said Samuel Kemper, gave the cry of murder, and that was the last he saw or heard of them.

WILLIAM WESTBERRY.

(Signed)

JOSHUA BAKER,

Justice of the Peace.

AFFIDAVIT No. 3.

Likewise at the same time appeared before me James Latta, who depose, on oath, that at the same hour, being just awakened by some man requesting to see Samuel Kemper, he heard them ask for whiskey, and being asked who he was, said a friend; that they then being in the house, broke open the door of said Kemper's private lodging room, that he Latta, attempting to rise, was thrown back on the bed by two men, who said they would take his life if he spoke. That there appeared to be five men in number, and all disguised in black paint, that after some short time he got an opportunity of escaping, when he went for assistance, and before his return they had borne off the said Samuel Kemper, and he saw them no more.

AFFIDAVIT No. 4.

WILKINSON COUNTY, Mississippi Territory.

Personally appeared before me, one of the justices of the peace, for said county, John Atkinson, Henry Gamheart, Richard Richardson and John Whittaker, who being duly sworn according to law, on their oaths depose. That on the night of the 3d September 1805, being at the house of Nathan Kemper, in the vicinity of Pinckneyville, between the hours of 11 and 12, they heard some person hail the house, and on being asked two or three times who they were, they stedfastly affirmed it was captain Abrams. Immediately afterwards they opened the door, which swung on the inside of the house, and was fastened by a string on the inside—immediately on this Reuben Kemper appeared to be only at that moment awakened from his sleep, asked who was there? when they immediately seized him, dragged him out of the house, and tied him after bruising him very much with a club of clubs.

Almost at the same time they dragged Nathan Kemper from the bed wherein he lay with his wife, and tied him also, but did not beat him as much as they did Reuben. Said Nathan Kemper requesting to see his wife, was refused in very rough language; she likewise was refused in her request of seeing her husband.

On Nathan Kemper's asking what they had done to merit such treatment, was answered God damn! you have ruined our country, which he, Atkinson, believes to be the American territories of Spain. That the said Nathan Kemper's wife received considerable injury from the violence of these men, who all appeared armed with guns, pistols, or clubs. That in the act of confining the above two men, they cocked and uncocked their guns a great many times, and ordered every man in the house to tell his name, and kept a strict guard at both the doors of the house, and would not admit of any one of the family, or any one that did not belong to their party passing and repassing, as they frequently presented their guns cocked, and said they would blow the first one through who attempted to oppose them. That they then gave a regular military word, forward march, and at the second word of command they proceeded on their way, & bore off both Reuben and Nathan Kemper. That the next morning they saw a considerable quantity of blood apparently issuing from the wounds of Reuben Kemper.

American Captives in TRIPOLI.

[CONCLUDED.]

May 22. I was informed, that in a letter which the bashaw received the evening before, it was stated that Hassan Bey and his army, were taken in Derne, by the Americans and Sidi Hamet, the ex-bashaw. I was desired not to mention it, because it was a great secret; and the bashaw did not wish to let the people know it. I was also informed, that the bashaw called a council of his chiefs, and proposed to put all the American prisoners to death, but it was agreed to postpone this measure for that time.

May 23. Twenty-five of our men were sent with a cart for timber into the country. The wind from the desert was very heavy and hot. The men almost perished in the sand, which flew and drifted like a snow-storm in our country. They stopped through fatigue, and asked their driver, who was a Turk, for liberty to drink at a well which was near them. The Turk replied, that they were Romahelpes (Christian dogs) and said they should have no water. He gave them all a severe beating with a large club which he always carried with him to drive them with, and made them go on with the cart, which the poor fellows had to drag, loaded with timber, through the burning sand. They returned towards night almost perished.

May 24. At night the bashaw dispatched a boat with powder, musket-balls and money, for his troops who were collecting to oppose the approach of his brother Hamet, the ex-bashaw. The eldest son of Hamet was confined in the castle by order of the present bashaw. The bashaw was so much agitated at the news of the approach of his brother, that he this day declared, that if it was in his power now to make peace and give up the American prisoners, he would gladly do it without the consideration of money. His funds were so low, that his steward ran in debt for the supply of his kitchen. He gave his mamelukes and domestics, and myself, but one meal per day. The rich Turks in town took turns in supplying his few troops. He heartily repented for not accepting the terms of peace last offered by our country.

May 26. Three frigates in sight. At about 11 A. M. the smallest came near in, and hoisted the banner of peace. The bashaw asked his head men of the town, who were with him in the gallery, whether it was best to hoist his white flag. All except one (the charge de affairs for Algiers) declared in favor of it, and of making peace if possible. They expressed great contempt towards the Algerine consul for his advice, and said that whoever would advise the bashaw not to hoist the white flag at such a critical moment, must be his foe, and not his friend. The Algerine soon disappeared and left the castle. The Spanish consul soon after came to the castle; and the bashaw sent him one of his handsomest boats, with Shous Hammond to the frigate. They returned at evening with the joyful news of a prospect of peace. There was a visible change from gloominess to joy in the countenances of all the Turks.

May 27. Both Turks and Christians were all anxiously looking out for the frigates. It was said that col. Lear had promised to come on shore this morning and that the Spanish consul was preparing a dinner for the gentlemen who were expected to come with him. We were all agitated alternately by hope and despair. The terraces and every eminence in town, were covered with people of all classes and ages, who were looking for the wished-for peace-maker. But not a frigate nor a sail have in sight during the day.

May 28. All looking out again for our squadron. A brig hove in sight in the morning, which we all at first thought was the flag ship. On discovering it was a brig, a gloominess again appeared on every countenance. The Turks began to think that the frigate had gone to search the whole fleet, which they had heard consisted of sixty sail of different sizes. They thought that the flag of truce was only a plan of the Americans, to find out the force of Tripoli, &c. But at sun set three frigates and a brig appeared, which revived our hopes. The Bashaw shewed the greatest anxiety for peace. He was sensible of the danger he was in from the lowness of his funds and the disaffection of his people.

May 29. Three frigates and a brig bore down upon the town and displayed ensigns and signals of peace, which were immediately answered from the castle. The Spanish consul, Fajah the Jew, and several June 6. I bid the Bashaw a final adieu which he seemed much affected.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

THE wood used in Tripoli, is brought on Jack-Asses; six of them carry about half a cord.

There are many remains of antiquity in Tripoli. There are nine pillars to the porch of the house in which the American officers lived. They are of marble, and have the appearance of great antiquity. There are many columns of Roman and Grecian architecture, wrought into the corners of some of the houses, without form or regularity.

The streets of Tripoli are narrow and dirty, and the houses present a dead wall. Many of the houses are partly composed of broken marble, full of engravings and inscriptions mostly defaced.

Marriages are proclaimed in Tripoli, by one or two old women, who run through the streets making a most bedious yelling, and frequently clapping their hands to their mouths, similar to the American Indians in their pow-wows.

The following principal articles of faith, constitutes the religion of the Turks:— that there is but one God, and that Mahomet is the messenger of God.

Their commandments are but five in number, viz.

- 1st. To pray five times a-day.
- 2nd. To fast in lent or ramadam.
- 3rd. To give alms and perform works of charity.
- 4th. To go on a pilgrimage to Mecca.
- 5th. To keep the body clean.

Four other points are deemed of importance though not of absolute necessity to salvation, viz. To keep Friday as Sabbath; to be circumcised; to drink no wine; and to abstain from Swine's flesh, or things strangled. Many of the inhabitants of Tripoli strictly adhere to this religion.

[We have now completed the publication of all the extracts we have made from Dr. Cowdery's journal. These have occupied a considerable portion of the paper for some weeks; but they have been of too interesting a nature to be tire some. Dr. Cowdery has it in contemplation to publish a pamphlet or small volume, to be entitled "The American Captives in Tripoli, containing the particulars of the capture of the Philadelphia frigate, a general description of Tripoli, with the adjacent country, its curiosities &c. and a sketch of the customs and manners of its inhabitants, to which will be added the journal at full length, kept during his captivity, and an appendix containing the treaties and general relations between the United States and the Barbary powers." Some accurate views and drawings, will be attached to the work.]

It should conclude with the usual averment, that no enemy of Great Britain has any concern with the goods; that they were at the time of capture, and would be if restored, the sole and exclusive property of the claimant. Copies of letters and papers should be authenticated by a notarial certificate of comparison, and not by the mere verification of the party.

Alexandria Daily Advertiser.
TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24.

To-MORROW being CHRISTMAS, this paper will not be issued till Thursday next.

The Circuit Court of the District of Columbia for the county of Alexandria rose on Saturday last, after a session of four weeks, and have adjourned till the fourth Monday in March, for the purpose of completing the business depending before them during the session, the following presentment was returned by the grand jury of the county.

UNITED STATES,
District of Columbia,
ALEXANDRIA COUNTY,
November Term, 1805.

WHEREAS, in all well regulated societies, the accommodation of the unfortunate prisoner, is deemed a subject of primary consideration, we the grand jury for the body of the county of Alexandria, do present the jail of the county aforesaid, as unfit for the object contemplated, being unsafe in itself and a nuisance that cannot be remedied under existing circumstances.

The grand jury take leave to request the honorable court to make public this presentment.

ROBERT YOUNG, Foreman.

We have seen a decree of general Ferrand, dated Santo Domingo, 20th Vendemiaire, 14th year (11th October 1805)—from which the following extracts are made.

ART. I. All vessels detained either with clearances direct for the ports occupied by the rebels, or coming from thence with clearances from the custom-houses, or plausibly suspected of masked clearances in order the better to establish their communications with the rebels, may be carried into the neighboring neutral or allied ports, on condition however of proving a lawful cause why they were not carried immediately to Santo Domingo, or to Havana, derogating in this respect from our decree of the 13th last Missidor.

The captains general, governors, & commandants in these islands who cannot doubt the obligation of every nation to concur in measures which may stifle the rebellion in that of St. Domingo, are requested to authorise the entrance of these vessels into their ports.

ART. XI. A list shall be made by the same magistrate (the president regent of the Imperial audience or court of appeal) of the owners, insurers, loaders, merchants, dealers, captains, supercargoes and others connected in commercial relations, or interest with the rebels, and designated in the correspondents and documents deposited as proofs of the offences.

At the head of this list shall be inserted the owners and others interested in the vessels stopped in the act, and condemned as such on account of their clearances either direct for rebel ports, or exhibiting proof that they were coming from thence by receipts of the custom-houses, &c. The same operation shall be repeated every month.

Copies of these lists shall be delivered to every cruiser, which carries our letters of marque.

XII. Every vessel whatever, navigating under any flag on board of which whatever shall be found invoices, bills of lading and other documents having any direct relation to one or more of the persons inserted in the lists directed by the preceding article, shall be provisionally detained without regard to the distance of the territorial sea or place in which she may be met, and shall be carried into port to be there examined. There, after the most exact examination, which shall be made by the competent tribunals, it shall be determined whether there is ground for a confiscation and condemnation of either the vessel or the whole or part of the cargo only; without in any case the captured captain being authorised to claim from the captured cruiser, any indemnity on account of being forced from his course or delay in his voyage. The expense of the procedure shall also be in this case imposed on the captains.

"This will inform you of my arrival at this port, with the Annawan, on the 23d ult. I had to perform a quarantine of 8 days. You will be surprised at my long passage, but I had light flattering winds the first ten days, and on the 25th of September was struck with something like a whirlwind, which threw the ship on her beam ends, swept all the masts off the larboard side, sprung the heads of the fore and main mast, carried the topmast over the side immediately, and I am sorry to say, that in fifteen minutes after the gulf, there was not a single vestige above the tops remaining in sight, we did not save any part of the wreck. I was then in lat. 43, long. 57. We had been laying to a few hours when the whirlwind struck the ship, and not a sail of any kind left. Five of the crew were at this time sick, unable to come on deck, (one of them died two days afterwards). With the remainder I was making the ship snug, expecting the equinoctial gales. Luckily when the gulf struck the ship, Mr. Gibson, the mate, was standing near the foremast, about striking the top gallant mast, when I called to him to cast away the back stays, and immediately both the fore and main top-masts went together the heads of both the lower masts were shivered in pieces. After the gale abated I had some difficulty to get the crew to continue the voyage, but however at length accomplished it, and although scarcely had any sail to set, I was so fortunate as to make Cape Clear in 30 days after leaving the Delaware. I have had the masts surveyed and condemned and shall fit her out again, supposing her to be insured. I am in hopes to be a full ship about the tenth of January."

A letter from a mercantile house in Liverpool to another in New York, dated 7th November, says: "We have to inform you, that the accounts, a few days ago received, stating the capture of General Mack, and his whole army, together with other defeats on the part of the Austrians, have thrown complete gloom over most articles of Commerce, particularly those connected with our manufactures and continental exports."

(Mercantile Advertiser.)

Without detracting from whatever merit the President's Message may be fairly entitled to, we cannot but lament, that on the only points, where it was expected he would dwell with the most weight and energy, and on which he would have secured the confidence and good opinion of all thinking federalists, he appears to be the most cool, obscure and indefinite. He has been compelled to take federal ground, in many parts of his communication; but he does not appear to stand either erect or firm in his new positions; he speaks of national wrongs, and of national resentment, but the voice is neither felt, or distinctly understood; nor are the means of redress and fecundity, which appear plain to common men, either fully explained, or energetically recommended. To a country, like ours, bordering on so immense a sea coast and where the genius and habits of the people are bent on commercial enterprise, a navy is emphatically the cheap defence of a nation.

(Boston Gazette.)

An appropriate MONUMENT is now nearly completed, by an eminent Italian near Leghorn, to commemorate the gallantry and inestimable worth of the young men of our Navy, who fell in the Tripolitan War of 1804. To this Monument the gentlemen of the Navy, from their scanty means, generously gave above two thousand dollars.

This elegant Monument is expected to arrive in a few days, to be placed on an eminence in the Navy Yard, in the city of Washington.

IN SENATE.

The Senate have appointed Messrs. Tracy, Anderson, Worthington, Adams and Wright, a committee to examine the act admitting Ohio, as a state into the union, and authorising them to report by bill or otherwise, on the manner in which the money appropriated by the said act ought to be applied.

They have likewise appointed Messrs. Mitchell, Baldwin and Tracy, a committee to inquire into the expediency of appropriating a further sum for the purchase of maps and books for the library.

On Monday and Tuesday last, the Senate were engaged on a motion of Mr. Bradley, for leave to bring in a bill to prohibit the importation of slaves into any port or place within the jurisdiction of the United States, from and after the 1st day of Jan. 1808.

On this motion the previous question was called, viz.

"Shall the main question be now put?"—and passed in the affirmative, as follows:

YEAS.

Messrs. Anderson, Bradley, Condit, Fenner, Howland, Kitchell, Logan, Maclay, Mitchell, Plumer, Smith (of Md.) Smith (of Ten.) Smith (of Vr.) Stone, Thurston, and Worthington—16.

NAVS.
Messrs. Adair, Adams, Baldwin, Gilliard, Gilman, Jackson, Moore, Pickering, Sumpter, Tracy, and Wright—10.

The yeas and nays were then taken on the main question, which passed in the affirmative, as follows:

YEAS.

Messrs. Anderson, Bradley, Condit, Fenner, Gilman, Howland, Kitchell, Logan, Maclay, Mitchell, Plumer, Smith (of Md.) Smith (of Ten.) Smith (of Vermont) Stone, Thurston, Worthington, & Wright—18.

NAVS.

Messrs. Adair, Adams, Baldwin, Gilliard, Jackson, Moore, Pickering, Sumpter and Tracy—9.

Mr Bradley then introduced the bill, which received a first reading.

On Wednesday Mr. Logan gave notice, that he should to-morrow ask leave to bring in a bill, to suspend the commercial intercourse between the United States of America, and the French island of St. Domingo.

The bill to prohibit the importation of slaves into any port or place within the jurisdiction of the United States, from and after the first day of January, 1808, was read the second time.

A motion was made to make it the order of the day for the first Monday in February, and lost; when it was ordered that its further consideration be postponed to the first Monday in December, which is equivalent to a rejection of the bill.

On this question the senate were equally divided, 14 members for, and 14 members against the motion, and the vice-president gave the casting vote.

We understand that in the course of the discussion, it was allowed on all hands that as soon as the time arrived when congress shall possess the constitutional power of prohibiting the importation of slaves, it would be proper for them to exercise it. The opponents of the bill took two grounds, the one consisting in the inexpediency of legislating on the subject before the year 1808, and the other in the alleged unconstitutionality of legislating until that period.

DRUGGIST.

The following Valuable Medicines:

Dr. Rawson's Anti-Bilious and Stomach Bitters.

PREPARED BY
THOMAS H. RAWSON,
Member of the Connecticut Medical Society.

THESE Bitters have undoubtedly had the most rapid sale of any Patent Medicine ever before discovered, and are justly appreciated for their singular and uncommon virtues for relieving weak and debilitated constitutions, and all that train of complicated complaints so common in the spring and fall seasons, such as intermittent fevers and agues, long autumnal fevers, dyspepsia, &c. They are also a very pleasant bitter for common use, and where they are known they have taken the place and superseded the use of all other bitters in public houses as well as in private families.—Price 50 cents a box.

Dr. Lee's (Windham) Billious Pills.
THE great sale and increasing demand for these valuable pills for their twelve years past, has spoken their intrinsic worth. They have proved singularly efficacious in Billious and Yellow fevers, Jaundice, Head Aches, Dyspepsia, Billious Colic, Catarrhs, Female complaints, &c.
The very great demand and high esteem in which these pills are held throughout the United States and the West Indies, has induced many to counterfeit them; the purchaser is requested to observe that the name of Samuel Lee, jun. (the patentee) is affixed to each bill of directions, in his own hand writing, or they will not be genuine. Price 50 cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Itch Ointment.

A certain and safe application for that disagreeable complaint called the ITCH. Price 42 cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Anti-Bilious Pills, or, Family Physic.

The extraordinary celebrity these pills have gained, the universal demand for them and esteem of which they are held by medical men of the first eminence, are sufficient testimonials of their intrinsic worth. In great colds and sudden attacks of disorders, an early use of these pills often produces the happiest effects, and taken once in eight or ten days in cases of indigestion, headache, dizziness, pains in the stomach and bowels, dyspepsia, diarrhoea, dropsy, &c. and a liberal use of my anti-bilious bitters in the intermediate time has relieved patients almost to a miracle—price 25 cents a box.

more within his reach and management, offers for sale the following lands and negroes, at prices reduced as to elicit the attention of persons willing to invest money in such property.

CHATHAM, that elegant and highly improved seat on the banks of the Rappahannock, is directly opposite the town of Fredericksburgh, containing about eleven hundred acres, four hundred of which are in wood, and valuable timber, rest in cultivation, and the whole is land in tillage is level, a considerable part of has been highly improved, and the whole is well adapted to the culture of grain, small grain and Indian corn, as the crop now growing is attest. The house and offices are of brick, on a large and handsome scale, with a garden front containing four acres, laid off with and well planted with the choicest fruit trees now in full bearing, and ornamented with trees and shrubs of almost every description.
There is on the estate a joining the river, a mill built of free stone, containing the most machinery and two pair of stones, one of the French Burr.—It commands a large country from its situation for merchant business, and has rented for five hundred dollars per annum exclusive of all the grain of the farm hoppers which is equal to three hundred dollars more.
There are all necessary out houses, for either ventures or luxury, such as ice-house, fish house, barn, stable, offices, &c. &c. With these advantages and expensive improvements, this property is offered at a price which the alone ought to command. There are also valuable fisheries, and quantities of free stone on the estate.

Also, a tract of land generally called Clark's about two miles below Chatham, on the bank of the Rappahannock river, and with view of the town of Fredericksburgh, containing upwards of four hundred acres. About one hundred and twenty acres of this tract is Rappahannock river bottom in cultivation, and is well adapted to Indian corn, small grain, &c. the rest is in wood, surrounding a height, which affords a beautiful site for building.

Also, a tract of land in Stafford county, joining Stafford court house, containing upwards of twelve hundred acres. This is good farming land, and has several tenants on it.

Also, a tract of land in Westernland Richmond counties, containing upwards of thousand acres, on which there are also tenants. These two last mentioned tracts of land will be sold in small tracts, or in entire as may best suit the wishes of purchasers.

Also, a tract of land called Boyd's Hole, containing about one hundred and fifty acres,
on banks of the Potomac, in King George county, on which there are a comfortable dwelling house and tobacco inspection ware house. The situations combine more advantages, it being excellent stand for a store, ferry and tavern, two first of which are at present kept there. The houses have lately been put in good repair, and the buildings alone will rent for three hundred dollars a year. The land is good in quality, the situation abounds in fish, oysters and owl.

Also, a valuable site for a Mill, with acres of Land adjoining, in King George county, and not far distant from the last mentioned tract. There has been a mill here for many years which has lately gone to decay, the site is substantial and entire, and the situation for country mill not equalled in that neighborhood commanding a very extensive custom; the land is covered with cedar, which alone renders very valuable.

Also, several Lots and Houses in the town of Fredericksburgh.

Likewise, about two hundred and thirty
GROES, of different ages, sizes and descriptions, Affairs of them by families will be preferred to effect this they will be offered at a reduced price. As a part of these Negroes are at present attached to the Chatham estate, the purchaser that property may be accommodated with a number of them, as well as stock of every description.

Bank Stock of any of the Banks in Virginia, Maryland, or the district of Columbia, will be received in payment for any part of this property at a fair price, and bargains will be given the subscriber unable to attend to property so tant, is anxious to convert it into stock.

He will also rent a number of FARMS on Ravensworth estate, containing from 2 to 40 acres each, on encouraging terms, to good tenants. They lay from eight to ten miles distant from Alexandria, George Town, and the City of Washington, and convenient to the turnpike road now building from Alexandria to the country.
